10	Our support worker has always been at the end of the phone to take a call in relation to pieces of work required. For example the support we receive in relation to strategic planning, evaluation of plans and action plans is invaluable. As we have very busy schedules with the work we undertake in our projects Framework gives due notice of what needs to be undertaken at any given time and the lead in to same prepares us for the time to be given to each piece of work. At times due to work pressure one could be tempted to put things on the long finger which would inevitably lead to missed deadlines and insufficient reporting. Framework are always up to speed with what has to be done and link in with projects in plenty of time. There is great trust between Framework and staff and likewise with the VBOM and all work well as a team.	5/1/2018 12:49 PM
